NAILED IT

Polish isn't exactly known for its nature-loving goodness. Yet all shades of the new 10+ Free collection are 85 percent naturally derived and formulated without 16 potentially toxic chemicals. But do they wear well? We tried one and can confirm that it stays chip-free just as long as traditional formulas—without the list of scary-sounding ingredients.

LASTING IMPRESSION

In the World According to My Mother, a woman should not leave the house without a swipe of lipstick. This bullet has a ridge along the back creating a unique teardrop shape that never loses its point for a neat, precise application every time. Ma approves! CREAM OF THE CROP

In my opinion, there are far too many snake-oil skincare products that promise the world but deliver diddly. The new brand from New York City cosmetic dermatologist Howard Sobel, MD, is the opposite: It features some of the highest concentrations of tried-and-true topicals, like this 4.5 percent retinol cream. I've never received so many compliments on my skin!
